Complete list of Britain's Got Talent winners Britain's Got Talent winners Short Story - Know in One Minutes Series 15 (2022) — BGT's 2022 Winner: Axel Blake In the Britain's Got Talent 2022 final, comedian Axel Blake defeated singer Tom Ball and ventriloquist Jamie Leahy. When hosts Ant McPartlin and Declan Donnelly announced his name, he was speechless. Axel, who received Simon Cowell's golden buzzer vote and delivered a barrage of jokes during his outstanding final performance that had the judges and the home audience in fits of laughter, couldn't believe he had won the £250,000 prize. Britain's Got Talent winners 2022: Axel Blake Series 14 (2020) — BGT's 2021 Winner: Jon Courtenay Jon Courtenay, a comedic pianist who performed in the final, captured the nation's hearts and earned a spot in the Britain's Got Talent winners hall of fame by singing about the highs and lows of living in lockdown. Jon won over the audience from the start of his audition with his amusing and unique song, becoming Ant and Dec's Golden Buzzer act before receiving votes from the judges in his semi-final performance. Britain's Got Talent winners 2021: Jon Courtenay Series 13 (2019) —BGT 2019 Winner: Colin Thackery Every time 89-year-old Chelsea Pensioner Colin sung his heart out on the Britain's Got Talent stage, not a dry eye could be found in the nation. Colin won the season in 2019 and took home the £250,000 prize money after winning the nation's heart from his very first performance. In addition to being the talent competition's oldest winner, he also put out the album Love Changes Everything, which peaked at number 13. Britain's Got Talent winners 2019: Colin Thackery Series 12 (2018) — Winner: Lost Voice Guy After being given a cerebral palsy diagnosis at the age of six months, stand-up comic Lost Voice Guy had the country in fits of laughter as he performed jokes using a speech synthesizer. Since then, Lost Voice Guy, whose real name is Lee Ridley, has gone on to write and star in the Radio 4 sitcom Ability. The judges couldn't get enough of his hilarious performances. Britain's Got Talent winners 2019 — Winner: Lost Voice Guy Series 11 (2017) — BGT 2017 Winner: Tokio Myers In 2017, pianist Tokio's initial audition performance left the judges dumbfounded. The extremely gifted pianist not only plays the piano well, but he also adds his own flair, grabbing everyone's attention. Tokio released an album called Our Generation after winning Britain's Got Talent, and it peaked at number four on the charts. Britain's Got Talent winners 2017: Tokio Myers Series 10 (2016) — BGT 2016 Winner: Richard Jones By defeating vocalist Wayne Woodward and the Stormtrooper dance outfit Boogie Storm in the final, Richard became the first magician to ever win Britain's Got Talent. Later, he had his own one-off show on ITV called Operation Magic, and he now performs magic shows across the UK. Britain's Got Talent winners 2016: Richard Jones Series 9 (2015) — Winner: Jules O'Dwyer and Matisse In the 2015 final, Matisse played a sausage thief while Jules O'Dwyer pretended to be a policewoman. Matisse reportedly walked a tightrope as part of the act, and the duo took home the prize money. The revelation that the dog on the tightrope wasn't actually Matisse but another dog named Chase quickly sparked uproar. It was determined that viewers had been deceived after complaints were made to Ofcom. Series 8 (2014) — BGT 2014 Winner: Collabro In 2014, the boyband Collabro won Britain's Got Talent for the first time ever. Since then, they've enjoyed tremendous success. Their second album, Act 2, debuted at number two on the album chart while their debut, Stars, immediately reached the top spot in the UK. Since then, they've put out three additional albums, all of which have done well. Series 7 (2013) — BGT 2013 Winner: Attraction In the 2013 live final, the Hungarian shadow theatre troupe Attraction defeated the young comic Jack Carroll. The ensemble consistently received standing ovations for their heartfelt performances, which even brought Amanda Holden, a judge on Britain's Got Talent, to tears. Series 6 (2012) — BGT 2012 Winner: Ashleigh and Pudsey Simon Cowell has always been a fan of performances involving animals, so you can only imagine how happy he was when Ashleigh and her dog Pudsey won the competition in 2012. Following their victory, Pudsey even went on to star in his own movie, Pudsey the Dog: The Movie, which featured the voice of Britain's Got Talent judge David Walliams. Series 5 (2011) — Winner: Jai McDowall Everyone had their money on singer Ronan Parke to win Britain's Got Talent during the entire fifth season. But it wasn't until the live final that Scottish performer Jai McDowall electrified the country with his cover of Evanescence's "Bring Me To Life" and took home the popular vote. Series 4 (2010) — Winner: Spelbound When the gymnastics group Spelbound won Britain's Got Talent in 2010, they took home a handsome £100,000. The group later went on to play at the Royal Variety Performance, as well as in the Britain's Got Talent Live Tour and even the 2012 London Olympics closing ceremony. Series 3 (2009) — Winner: Diversity Britain's Got Talent had a very successful year in 2009. Diversity, a dance group, not only took home the coveted top spot, Susan Boyle was also born this year. With her rendition of "I Dreamed a Dream," Susan rendered the country speechless, and she instantly rose to fame. However, Diversity narrowly defeated her in the final. Perri Kiely has achieved success on programmes including Splash and a celebrity edition of The Great British Bake Off, while Ashley Banjo has now joined the Dancing On Ice judging bench. Series 2 (2008) — Winner: George Sampson With his incredible performance to Mint Royale's version of the well-known song "Singin' in the Rain," breakdancer George dazzled both the audience and the judges. In fact, the UK was so devoted to George that the song itself was re-entered and reached the top spot. Since appearing on the reality TV programme, George has pursued a career in acting and has landed parts in Emmerdale and Waterloo Road. Series 1 (2007) — Winner: Paul Potts Paul, a singer, received more than two million votes to become Britain's Got Talent's first-ever champion in 2007. Since his victory, Paul has pursued a singing career, and in 2013, James Corden starred in the biographical One Chance movie about his story. Britain's Got Talent winners list is a mixed bunch of tremendous talents. Scooping first place not only bag the biggest prize, but you get a chance to perform in front of the queen at Royal Variety Performance. Films, Acting, Albums, and endorsement in the Hollywood industry is a gift. You get long-term success when you are added in the BGT Winners list. Without further ado, let's check out all the winners of BGT and their achievements so far. Britain Got Talent Season 1: Paul Potts (2007) A former mobile phone salesman and opera singer Paul Potts took the audience of the UK by storm with his splendid performance on the stage. "One Chance", a debut album of his top the charts in nine countries, and later earn double platinum. With the time, he subsequently released six albums. A biopic film based on Pott's life has been released later in 2013, featuring James Corden in the lead role. The film earned $10 million at the box office. He has successfully reached the finals of America's Got Talent in 2019. A report declares that he has earned over £5 million since winning the show. Now Trending: Britain's Got Talent 2022 Where to Watch Britain Got Talent Season 2: George Sampson (2008) A 14-year guy had won millions of hearts with his street dance performances. Post BGT, he had a diverse career with West End Production of Into The Hoods, where he was supposed to make dance DVDs and also released a single "Get Up On The Dance Floor" that reached number 30 in the UK chart. He also got his hands in acting by playing major roles in the BBC drama "Waterloo Road" and "Sky's Mount Pleasant" and in 2016, had a cameo role in "Emmerdale". In 2018, he had featured in a film short, Daniel Thomas, and headlined the UK tour of Our House. He was also starred in the pantomimes Jack and The Beanstalk and Rapunzel. Last year, he participated in Celebrity Coach Trip with Roxanne Pallett. Britain Got Talent Season 3: Diversity (2009) Surprisingly the famous dance troupe beat Susan Boyle and crowned the third series of BGT. As Diversity, they embarked on a successful journey nationwide, but some of the troupe members also enjoyed solo success. Ashley Banjo was invited as a judge on the talent show Got to Dance. Whereas Perri Kiely won the second series of ITV's Splash and also won Celebrity Bake-off 2018, moreover earlier this year, he finished being runner-up to Joe Swash in Dancing on Ice. Jordan Banjo has participated in I'm Celebrity. Diversity again surprised the BGT audience in the live show of 2018 by bringing Dec on stage. Born Ready took place in 2019 as Diversity's 10th anniversary. In short, they are making their way to success post-BGT. Britain Got Talent Season 4: Spelbound (2010) When this gymnastic troupe Spelbound won the show, they made their way victory since 2010. They released a DVD the same year and also performed at the London Olympics Closing Ceremony in 2012. In 2015, Spelbound performed in Paris with comedian Michael McIntyre for an event and the group was also seen in celebrity gymnastic series Tumble. Britain Got Talent Season 5: Jai McDowall (2011) The surprise winner of BGT won the show by beating up 12-year-old singer Roman Parke. After, he continued to make his way across the country and supporting Pop Idol runner-up Gareth Gates on tour. He worked hard in eight years and thankfully, fans were on his side and were very loyal to him. In 2019 Cowell and McDowall were reunited to perform in Britain's Got Talent: The Champion Series and got immense applause. Britain Got Talent Season 6: Ashleigh and Pudsey (2012) Ashleigh Butler and her dog Pudsey won millions of hearts during their performance and the duo was the first to win Britain's Got Talent by performing a dog act. After that they traveled to America and performed on America's Got Talent and also appeared on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. The pair also performed in many pantomimes and theatre productions. After Paul Potts, they were the second Britain's Got Talent act to have a film made about them. The movie has been released in 2014. Show judge David Walliams's voice as Pudsey was recorded for the film. They were also seen as a judge on ITV's short-lived talent shows That Dog Can Dance and also in ITV2's Top Dog Model. Pudsey has also bagged £100,000 for his book deal. In July 2017, Pudsey died at 11, and at the end of 2017, Ashleigh was seen on Good Morning Britain and introduced her new dog Sully to the world, who now performs with her in dog shows and pantomimes. Ashleigh and Sully won the Craffs 2019 and are still a triumphant victory. Britain Got Talent Season 7: Attraction (2013) By beating up many controversies, they became the first foreign act to win Britain's Got Talent. After the show, they performed in Las Vegas as well seen in a TV ad. The Attraction was seen competing alongside Paul Potts in America's Got Talent: The Champions in 2019 but were not crowned. Britain Got Talent Season 8: Collabro (2014) The Band released their debut album in 2014 after winning the show, and it reached No.1 in the UK chart. After, they cracked another deal giving a strong album performance that has reached No.2 in the UK. In 2016, Richard Hadfield left the group, but the remaining four members still released their album Home in 2017. The group also participated in the 2020 series of America's Got Talent: The Champions. Britain Got Talent Season 9: Jules and Matisse (2015) Amid many controversies of being similar to former contestants Ashleigh and Pudsey act while performing a tightrope trick, it was the second dog act to win Britain's Got Talent trophy. They were invited back for the live shows in 2016 by BGT. Recently, Jules appeared at the Royal Variety Performance. Britain Got Talent Season 10: Richard Jones (2016) He is one of the most successful BGT winners of all time and the first magician to win the show. Before heading out to his first solo tour, Power of Imagination he launched his TV show Operation Magic in 2017. He is an army officer who hasn't left his job after winning, a musician, and a magician. He is living all the three lives that he had dreamt of. Jones has been seen in the UK with his magic show Power of Imagination. Britain Got Talent Season 11: Tokio Myers He offered unique acts to BGT, showing acts with his multi-instrumental takes on a fusion of dance, hip-hop, and classic music. His first album, Our Generation, featured a mix of his own composition with 90s dance, hip hop, and classical pieces. He also co-produced and performed on Bridge Over Troubled Water. He earned many trophies that include three Classical Brit awards, Album of the Year, and Breakthrough Artist of the Year. Myers also appeared in America Got Talent: The Champions in 2019. Britain Got Talent Season 12: Lost Voice Guy (2018) Lost Voice Guy was the first person to spice up the stage with laughs and jokes and won the show Britain's Got Talent. Surprisingly, he is the first stand-up comedian in the history of the UK to use a voice synthesizer after losing his voice; he has cerebral palsy. Since winning, he has taken a 10-week tour and starred in a BBC Radio 4 sitcom called Ability. He has become the iconic voice of many people suffering from a disability. Moreover, he has changed people's minds and attitudes towards the disabled after winning Britain's Got Talent. Britain Got Talent Season 13: Colin Thackery Colin, the oldest ever winner of the show, won millions of hearts with his unique ability to sing note-perfect renditions of popular wartime classics that had brought tears to the eyes of viewers and judges. His emotional performance that he dedicated to his late wife was heart-touching. At the end of last year, he released his first single, Love Changes Everything occupying number 13 in the charts. Every winner of Britain Got Talent made their way to success and won millions of fans who adore them today.
